

Elements of Handling Divine Knowledge

This is a thoughtful and comprehensive approach to understanding how we should handle divine knowledge, (God's word) using practical analogies and scriptural references. Here's a structured reflection based on the key points:

2 Timothy 2:15 (AMP)

Study and be eager and do your utmost to present yourself to God approved (tested by trial), a workman who has no cause to be ashamed, correctly analyzing and accurately dividing [rightly handling and skillfully teaching] the Word of Truth.

The Four Key Elements of Handling Divine Knowledge

1. Receiving: This is the initial and crucial step. To truly benefit from divine knowledge, we must first be open to receiving it. If we reject the information, we cut off the possibility of further engagement with it. This step is like being a receptive recipient—like a UPS driver accepting a package.
2. Holding: Once we receive divine knowledge, the next step is to guard and protect it. This is about ensuring that the information is safely kept and not diluted or corrupted. Just as a secure delivery process ensures the integrity of the package, our role is to maintain the purity of the knowledge we have received.
3. Transporting: This involves being responsible for the knowledge we hold and ensuring it is transferred correctly and effectively. It's about the accuracy and integrity of the transmission, much like ensuring a package reaches its intended destination without loss or damage.
4. Delivering: The final step is the thorough and accurate delivery of the knowledge to others. This requires careful attention to detail, ensuring that the message is communicated clearly and effectively.

Scriptural Basis for Growing in Divine Knowledge

- 2 Peter 3:18 emphasizes the importance of growing in the knowledge of our Lord. Growth in understanding is a continuous journey, not a one-time event.
- Proverbs 19:20 advises us to listen to advice and accept instruction to gain wisdom. This aligns with the concept of progression in our knowledge journey—growth takes time and patience.
- 2 Kings 19:30 illustrates that growth often starts unseen, with roots going down before visible fruit appears. This is a reminder that spiritual growth and understanding may not always be immediately visible but is progressing beneath the surface.
- Mark 4:28-29 reinforces the idea of progression: first the blade, then the head, and finally the full grain. This highlights the step-by-step nature of growth in divine knowledge and understanding.

4. Delivering: Communicate with care and attention to detail. Strive to be thorough in your explanation and respectful of the recipient's understanding. (Thoroughness)

Conclusion

The process of growing in divine knowledge mirrors the care and diligence required in handling and delivering packages. Each step—receiving, holding, transporting, and delivering—requires commitment and patience. Remember, growth is a gradual process, and every stage is important. By responsibly managing the knowledge we receive, we honor its source and contribute meaningfully to the broader understanding of God's message.
