

His house

Summary:

Praise the Lord! This message is a powerful call to prayer and a reminder of our role as believers in Christ. The verses from Isaiah 56:7, Mark 11:17, and the passages from 1 and 2 Corinthians offer a beautiful perspective on the importance of seeing our bodies as temples of the Holy Spirit and being houses of prayer for all peoples.

Prayer indeed connects us with God's heart, and when we engage in it with faith and the desire to glorify Him, we can sense His pleasure, just as the runner in Chariots of Fire felt God's pleasure in his running. This analogy to prayer, where faith, even accompanied by emotions, aligns us with God's will.

May the prayer suggestions be encouraging. They challenge us to view things from God's perspective, reminding us that we are His dwelling place, called to be intercessors for the world. They resonate with the emphasis on feeling God's pleasure while praying—it is a profound experience!

It is a blessing to know that, just like Jesus in His moments of emotion and faith, we too can weep, express our emotions, and still operate powerfully in faith. This aligns with the reality that we walk by faith and not by sight, as 2 Corinthians 5:7 reminds us.

I believe this is a motivating prayer focus! I believe also, this message will stir up many to draw closer to God in prayer and to live for His glory. If you like to include any specific prayer requests that we can lift up together in prayer, please contact me. Thank you!
