

Overall summary! Do not give up!

The information on this page and the insights beautifully ties together the concepts of faith, confidence, and endurance.

Connecting Hebrews 10:35-36 with Romans 12:3, are essential truths: the confidence and faith given to us by God are not to be discarded but rather nurtured and utilized for His purposes.

Hebrews 10:35-36 emphasizes that our confidence (G3954, παρρησία, which can be translated as boldness or openness) has a great reward. This confidence is not just self-assurance; it is rooted in our faith in God's promises.

The exhortation to maintain this confidence is followed by a call for endurance, suggesting that perseverance in our faith and trust in God is necessary to fully do His will and receive His promises.

Romans 12:3 complements this by reminding us that God has assigned each of us a measure of faith. This faith is not something we have generated on our own; it is a gift from God, meant to be used with sober judgment. The connection between faith and confidence is powerful because it shows that our boldness in Christ is underpinned (Supported) by the faith He has given us.

The application of these truths—praying to our heavenly Father, sharing Jesus with others, and holding fast to our hope—is practical and impactful. These actions flow naturally from a life grounded in the confidence and faith that God supplies.

The study of Hebrews 10:35-36, along with the encouragement from 2 Timothy 2:15 to diligently study God's Word, reinforces the importance of understanding and applying Scripture in our lives. This approach strengthens our spiritual walk and enables us to live out our faith with boldness and perseverance.

Furthermore, this teaching brings forth a powerful message about the importance of faith, mastery over sin, and the dangers of allowing guilt to undermine our spiritual confidence.

Key Points:

1. Guilt and Faith:

- Guilt, especially for sins we have repented of, can severely damage our confidence and even lead us to throw away our faith. It is crucial to remember that our past sins are in the tomb—buried and forgiven. God no longer remembers them.

2. Sin as a Crouching Beast:

- Genesis 4:6-7 describes sin as a crouching beast, ready to pounce. The imagery suggests that sin is always at the door, waiting to attack when we are weak or have fallen. However, God instructs us to master it. This implies that, while sin is ever-present and aggressive, it is within our power to overcome it through faith.

3. Mastering Sin by Faith:

- Romans 6:14 reassures us that sin does not have dominion over us because we are under grace, not law. This grace empowers us to conquer sin through faith.

4. Remaining Steadfast:

- The passages from Proverbs 28:13 and Galatians 6:9 encourage confession, forsaking sin, and perseverance in well-doing. The metaphor of the palm tree, with its resilience and ability to bend without breaking, reflects the believer's need to endure challenges without giving up.

5. Faith vs. Doubt:

- Hebrews 10:38-39 warns against shrinking back in doubt, as doubt displeases God. Instead, we are called to live by faith, which is essential to pleasing God (Hebrews 11:6).

6. Strengthening Faith:

- Romans 4:20-21 highlights that being fully convinced of God's promises strengthens our faith. This assurance in God's ability and faithfulness is a critical component of living victoriously.

Application:

To prevent our faith from being discarded like trash, we must consistently remind ourselves of the truth that our past sins are forgiven, and that we have the power, through Christ, to master any sin that tries to ensnare us. We must stay fully convinced of God's promises, steadfast in our faith, and committed to living by it, even in the face of doubt or failure.

This teaching emphasizes the necessity of maintaining a strong, unwavering faith and the discipline to master sin through God's grace. It's an encouragement to press forward, with the assurance that victory over sin is possible through the strength and promises of God.

Click here. Main source. Trashcan! Do not give up! (Object lesson #1)